

MAKING THE TURN

A Revolving Editorial

Beginning with the second issue of Velostrada, we'll be publishing an editorial, written each time by a different subscribed Ferrari-Chat user, on all topics relative to Ferraris and FerrariChat.com. At this time, we'd like to welcome your submission for next month's issue. I will personally select one editorial to be published for each issue and, though I will edit the piece for spelling and grammatical errors, the content of your editorial will not be edited and any opinions, even those that are contrary to my own, will not be censored in any way.

In order to be considered, a submitted editorial must:

1. Be written and submitted by a subscribed FerrariChat.com user.
2. Focus on a topic or topics that are Ferrari or FerrariChat related.
3. Contain no profanity or material of an outright lewd or vulgar nature.
4. Refrain from making individual personal attacks aimed at others.
5. Not contain material that infringes on the copyright of others.
6. Be written in an intelligent and comprehensible manner.
7. Be received no later than the 25th of each month to be considered for the following issue.

Remember, an editorial is an article or commentary that expresses your opinion. Feel free to open up and let it all hang out because, rest assured, it will be accompanied by a disclaimer making it clear that your editorial doesn't necessarily reflect the views and opinions of Velostrada, FerrariChat.com or their staff.

If your editorial isn't used for a particular issue, don't be discouraged! Another user's submission might have been timelier, more topical, or simply better written (☺). Feel free to submit as many pieces as you like for consideration in as many issues as you wish. Also, just because a submission isn't used in the issue for which it was intended, doesn't mean that I won't be contacting you the following month for permission to use it then.

BUT WAIT...

All editorials will be open to comments and rebuttals from other subscribed F-Chat users! These comments will be published in the following issue and, as with the editorials themselves, I might have to narrow down which responses will be published. The same seven rules apply (see above) and, once again, feel free to be opinionated!

Please submit all editorials, comments, and rebuttals by email to: LWAusbrooks@aol.com and place “Making the Turn” in the subject line. Now, get off your butt, stand up and be heard!
